

PNAA and CAMPS Health Trust Join Forces to Provide Affordable Access to Benefits for Washington Manufacturers

Seattle, WA - September 1, 2023 - The Pacific Northwest Aerospace Alliance (PNAA) is thrilled to announce its collaboration with the CAMPS Health Trust to improve healthcare benefits accessibility for manufacturers across Washington State. This joint venture aims to provide affordable, high-quality health coverage and other related benefits to the manufacturing workforce, thereby strengthening the backbone of Washington's economy.

Empowering Manufacturers through Collaboration

The manufacturing sector has been a significant contributor to the state's economy. Yet, employers and employees alike have faced challenges accessing affordable healthcare and employee benefits. Through this partnership, both PNAA and CAMPS Health Trust are committed to alleviating this burden by offering tailor-made packages designed for manufacturing companies and their employees.

"The PNAA has always focused on the well-being of our aerospace manufacturing community. This alliance with CAMPS Health Trust enables us to expand that vision into providing much-needed healthcare benefits at affordable prices," says Nikki Malcom, CEO of PNAA.

Expanding Benefits to Reach All

The collaboration will produce a wide range of benefit plans, including medical, dental, vision, and wellness programs. By making healthcare affordable and accessible, the initiative aims to attract and retain a skilled workforce for Washington manufacturers, fortifying the state's competitive edge in global markets.

"As healthcare costs continue to soar, our partnership with PNAA can't come at a better time. Together, we're addressing a significant need and making it easier for manufacturers to do what they do best—innovate and produce," says Kirk Davis, Director of CAMPS.

Enrolling Now

Enrollment for the new benefits package will begin on October 1, 2023, and Washington manufacturers are encouraged to review the plans and consult with PNAA and CAMPS representatives for customized solutions.
